Progress on consultation for new product registration system

The first steps to developing WELS' new product registration system is progressing well. They have finished gathering valuable feedback from many user groups and coregulators through online workshops and focus groups. The new system is planned to be rolled out in 2023. Registrant businesses will be supported through this transition.

Statement of Agreement
Australian Building and Construction Industry
18th November 2022

Statement of Agreement on the availability of Standards

A construction industry alliance of over 20 organisations was convened at a forum in October 2022 in Sydney to discuss matters of serious concern confronting businesses, consumers, staff, and students in relation to fair and equitable access to Australian Standards, and Standards Australia's lack of formal response to industry concerns. In this Statement of Agreement the industry is requesting 3 concrete actions of the Government and Standards Australia.
