Mission

The Plumbing Products Industry group (PPI) is the leading group within the Plumbing industry where our members have a strong voice directly to key influential policy makers.

Our mission ensures all members no matter of size, location or type enjoy the ability to have a “strong” voice in industry framework, legislation & communication with influential players.

“PPI group members enjoy the ability to have their concerns heard, raised and resolved appropriately through the many influential channels PPI holds.

PPI group provides an opportunity for members to take part in the industry, and in-turn receive tremendous support from within the group for their business”
